

TEST YOUR KNOWLEDGE

1. When a cavy gives birth, it is called what?
2. Treatment for this rabbit condition is giving fresh or frozen pineapple juice?
3. The lower part of the face and nose of a rabbit is called?
4. As a means of marking their territory, rabbits secrete this from the chin glands and anal gland?
5. What is the term used to describe the nose marking on a Himalayan cavy?
6. Rabbits with this condition will have their head thrown back with open-mouth breathing?
7. A male cavy is called what?
8. Rabbit skins having small shedding marks and thinner fur are what grade?
9. Rabbits with this disease have an infection in the middle ear and twisting of the head?
10. When judging a single fryer, how many points are allotted for fur?
11. This rabbit condition has several names including blue bag and caked udder?
12. To produce good firm pellets that reduce the amount of fines in the feed, this substance is added to feed?
13. A doe's milk production will start to decrease about how many weeks after kindling?
14. Rabbits that have this disease will have a jelly-like stool and will sometimes grind their teeth?
15. The first milk produced by a doe after kindling is higher in lactose and fat. What is it called?

Answers March/April 2007

1. Kindling
2. Trichobezoars
3. Muzzle
4. Pheromones
5. Smut
6. Heat Stress
7. Boar
8. Grade 2
9. Wry Neck
10. 20
11. Mastitis
12. Bentonite
13. 3 weeks
14. Mucoïd Enteritis
15. Colostrum